Title: Opposer's First Notice of Reliance

Part 2 of 6

Exhibit 1

The Third Force

IMA is a new type of player in the foodservice arena. Members combine their respective volumes and mutually cooperate to create and foster close relationships and/or committed volumes programs. Suppliers have been quick to recognize this opportunity. It provides them with a viable alternative to the massive corporate distributor groups with their near exclusive focus on their own labels.

IMA is the procurement, marketing, and product development facilitator of:

Maines Paper & Food Service, Inc

The IJ Company

Conco FoodService

Shamrock Foods Company

Reinhart FoodService

Most members have worked together for years and are involved in several "alliance" programs. For example, all are members of the Distribution Marketing Advantage Group.

The IMA "Third Force" model demands the foodservice industry's attention because it clearly demonstrates how members can work together on numerous fronts and foster the benefits of information sharing and of common action. The organization is empowered to speak with one voice on programs and back them with action because it is networked with all elements of member companies' Management.

IMA is quick to recognize market niches and pursues specific and targeted proprietary IMA BRAND or National Brand programs to fill them.

IMA is dedicated to involving all elements of its member companies to drive success in product marketing projects.

IMA companies operate 30 distribution centers serving parts or all of the 48 contiguous U. S. states as well as parts of the Caribbean and Europe. Combined trade sales exceed $6 billion. IMA companies are the new force, the independent force, in American foodservice!

Platinum Partners

Independent Marketing Alliance Platinum Partners are companies that recognize and are willing to take advantage of our emergence as the "Third Force" in America's foodservice industry.

Platinum Partners are suppliers who currently enjoy a close relationship and/or a committed volume program with IMA. Many of them have shared in the initial development of the IMA BRAND concept.

Shared Vision

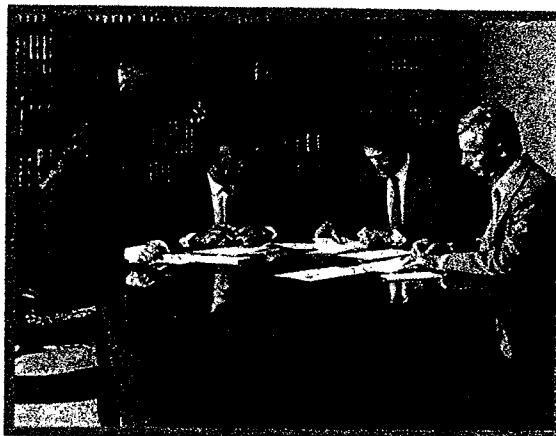

IMA and its Platinum Partners share the "Third Force" vision and are committed to growing it. An annualized $6 billion in trade sales is spectacular evidence that when partners share vision, goals and commitment, exciting results are achieved.

Exclusivity

Platinum Partner supplier programs are reserved for the Top 20 percent of our 250 plus suppliers. Both Platinum Partner and IMA Executive Management benefit from one-on-one interaction and frequent opportunities to share ideas and build relationships.

Benefits

Becoming a Platinum Partner provides tangible value to your organization. Platinum Partner membership status is not a "hunting license" relationship. Its primary purpose is to provide a venue for executive management from all involved companies to build relationships and explore additional opportunities between the organizations.

Your company's top management gains exclusive access to IMA events that include:

- IMA's Top to Top Executive Conference
- IMA's Annual Merchandising Conference
- An invitation to IMA's Top Gun sales training sessions
- IMA's annual preferential trip incentive program

Platinum Partner membership automatically includes a reserved slot at the annual IMA Merchandising Conference.

Results

The IMA "Third Force" foodservice distribution concept is unique to the industry. It is proof positive that when open-minded management embraces innovative business practices with shared vision and commitment, spectacular growth and results can continue to be achieved by all involved.

We acknowledge that Platinum Partners are one of the most important elements in the success we have enjoyed. We trust you recognize the benefits that your organization will derive from your IMA Platinum Partner membership.

Become an IMA Platinum Partner.

Doug:

IMA is looking at the mark "Cobblestone Corner" for deli items similar to Boars Head Brand at retail:

Cooked Deli Items

Cheese

Refrigerated Salads

Refrigerated Pickles

Deli Mustard

Bagged Potato Chips

Possibly prepared frozen soups and entrees

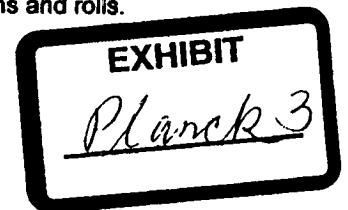

Before spending money on a full search I ran a simple search. There is 1 live "Cobblestone Corner" mark that deals with porcelain figures. One dead one dealt with bakery products such as breads, buns and rolls.

As for other marks:

"Cobblestone Bread" for fresh baguette breads is live.

"Cobblestone" for table wine is live.

"Cobblestone Kitchens" for staple goods, namely hot chocolate and coffee and dairy-based food beverages is live.

"Boston Cobblestone" for cheese is live.

My initial concern is with "Cobblestone Kitchens" and "Boston Cobblestone", and to some degree "Cobblestone Bread". Your thoughts?

FYI – This is the second name they have come up with (their initial choice was "Oakwood Farms" but there is an "Oakwood" mark that deals with processed meat products – so they have backed off on that one).

Thanks for your help.

Bart:

Nice to talk with you today. I took the liberty of conducting an online search for Cobblestone. Enclosed is a copy of our search report. Hope this is of some use to you. It looks as if Cobblestone Mills is the most pertinent. Any information you have on Oakwood would be appreciated.

Infrequently, because of the process used to catalog the unstructured information of the Web, it is possible the Web Page Lookup image returned will not relate to the cited URL.

Any liability arising out of the preparation of this report is limited to a refund of the search fee paid. Acceptance of this search constitutes an acceptance of the aforesaid terms, conditions and limitations. This report in no way constitutes a legal opinion. The ranking of cited references into groups based on their relative relevance to the mark searched is for the convenience of our clients in reviewing the search report and is not intended to convey an opinion regarding the legal significance of any cited reference.

Data Information

Information from the Official Gazette published on 04/13/2004 is included in this search report. On the date your search was conducted, our most recent pending application data included trademark records filed through 04/09/2004.* These records are received from the USPTO and are updated in our database as they are made available. Serial numbers filed through 03/28/2004 were complete at the time of this search. (The period between most recent records and complete records is attributable to gaps in serial numbers and dates from the USPTO; some of these gaps are due to differences in processing for electronically-filed applications.)

Active USPTO text records dating from 1884 are included in our database.

All of the queries in the Search Strategy below are applied to all active applications and registrations in our database, as well as inactive applications and registrations from 01/01/1999 to the present; inactive applications and registrations from 01/01/1984 - 01/01/1999 are searched for identical trademarks.

* Except for a small number of applications delayed in processing by the USPTO.

In-Use Information

Important Notices

Due to the constantly changing nature of the Internet, and the reasons detailed below, it is possible that the status of domain names may change between the time this report is generated and the time you receive this report. Therefore, we strongly recommend that you conduct additional domain name searching before attempting to register a domain name or forming a final opinion on the availability of a trademark or domain name.

- * The dynamic nature of the Web allows for the registration of new domain names virtually continuously, 24 hours a day.
- * All steps are taken to ensure the completeness and accuracy of our database. However, due to registrar/registry administrative procedures during domain name registration, some domain names may not be present in our database.
- * Domain name registrars do not report domain names which are not currently registered, nor do they report domain names which may be "on hold" with the registrar.
- * All domain names cited in this report should be considered to be REGISTERED as of the time this report was generated.

Due to the nature of the Web, and because we do not filter Web content, it is possible that the Web Page Lookups included in this report may contain objectionable material. If you wish to avoid the possibility of receiving such material, please contact us to "opt out" of Web Page Lookups.

Data Information

This report is the result of a computerized search of our database of top-level domain names. Our database is updated daily with domain name data from all ICANN-accredited registrars and covers the following suffixes:

- .com - commercial (unrestricted use)
- .org - non-profit organization (unrestricted use)
- .net - network (unrestricted use)
- .edu - educational institution
- .gov - U.S. Government agency
- .info - information (unrestricted use)
- .biz - business

This report covers domain names updated to our database as of the following date: APR 14, 2004

Please Note: Our last update to .ca (Canadian country code) domain name file was on December 11, 2000, when authority for .ca domains was transferred from the University of British Columbia to the Canadian Internet Registration Authority (CIRA) and file updates became unavailable. Further updates are not expected to become available unless CIRA develops a policy to allow the distribution of domain name information.

REPORTED OWNER INDEX

The following is an alphabetical listing of names reported in the OWNER field of records cited in this search report, with all marks owned by a single entity carried under that entity. (Due to inconsistent spellings, corporate designations, and other discrepancies in data collected by T&T from diverse sources, multiple listings of what are in fact the same owner may occur.) The Business Name, Domain Name and Gale Database sections of the report are not included in this index.

This tool is designed to facilitate your review of the search report and to help you identify trends in data. There has been no analysis made to determine if the company name listed is the actual owner of the trademark. In the case of USPTO listings, only officially reported owners are included; assignees are not considered owners for the purpose of this index.

MEMORANDUM

 From: Bartt Thompson
 Date: April 21, 2004
 Re: Cobblestone Corner

Any Disclaimers A to "Cobblestone"

IMA is considering adopting the use of the trademark "Cobblestone Corner" for deli items such as cooked deli items, cheese, refrigerated salads, refrigerated pickles, deli mustard, bagged potato chips and frozen soups and entrees. These items come under two of the classes for trademark registrations as follows:

Class 29 – Meats and Processed Foods
 Cooked deli items
 Cheese
 Refrigerated salads
 Refrigerated pickles
 Bagged potato chips
 Frozen soups and entrees

Class 30 – Staple foods
 Deli mustard

The Mark "Cobble Stone" or "Cobblestone"

A search for the mark "cobble stone" reveals that there are a few uses of the mark, in each case combined with another word, for products under Class 30:

Mark	Status	Class	Description
Cobblestone Bread	Pending	30	Fresh baguette breads
Cobblestone Mill	Registered	30	Bakery products, namely bread, buns and rolls
Cobblestone Mill Healthy & Hearty	Registered	30	Bakery products, namely Bread
Cobblestone Kitchens	Registered	30	Staple Goods, namely Hot Chocolate and Coffee

There are a few of uses of the mark, in each case combined with another word, for products under Class 29:

Boston Cobblestone	Registered	29	Cheese
Cobblestone Kitchens	Registered	29	Dairy-Based Food Beverages

The search also revealed that "cobble stone" is in use for several other products or services outside of Classes 29 and 30. Some examples of these:

Cobblestone Pizza	Pending	42	Restaurant services
Cobblestone Creek	Pending	3	Cosmetic and cleaning (soaps)
Cobblestone Bridge	Registered	16	Paper goods and Printed Matter
" "	"	35	Advertising and Business
" "	"	28	Toys and Sporting goods
(plus several other registrations for Cobblestone Bridge)
Cobblestone Small Group Tours	Registered	39	Transportation and Storage
Cobblestones	Registered	25	Clothing
Cobblestone	Registered	33	Wines and Spirits
Cobblestones	Registered	19	Non-metallic Building Materials
Cobblestone	Registered	42	Golf course services

The use of the mark Cobblestone has established several meanings through the registrations and pending registrations listed above.

The Mark "Cobblestone Corner"

The mark "Cobblestone Corners" was previously registered in 1975 under class 42 and cancelled in April 1982 (registrant was a third party).

The mark "Cobblestone Corner" was subsequently registered in October 1984 by Flowers Industries, Inc., which may be the owner of the mark "Cobblestone Mill" and "Cobblestone Mill Healthy & Hearty" under class 30 for bakery products-namely, breads, buns and rolls. The "Cobblestone Corner" mark was cancelled in February 1991. Finally, in April 2000 the Four Star International Trading Company registered the mark "Cobblestone Corners" under class 21 for collectible figures made of porcelain. This mark is live.

Analysis

As we have previously noted in various searches for IMA the trademark rules emphasize the impression that is left with the viewer. When a mark is comprised of a word or words the dominant sounds that the viewer observes is the feature of the mark to be analyzed for purposes of determining likelihood of confusion.

When a word has been used in multiple classes it is said to be diluted since no single owner has sole ownership of the mark. With "cobble stone" or "cobblestone" the word has some dilution since there are at least 10 different owners of variations of marks containing the word cobblestone.

With the variations of cobblestone and the fact that the existing "cobblestone corners" is for a different product in a different class means that we should expect the trademark office to raise the existence of the "corner" mark in their investigation. We will have to be prepared to respond that the goods are in different channels, involve different buyers that are not only not identical, but are not even related.

While we believe that IMA has a good chance at getting the mark "Cobblestone Corner" published for opposition under classes 29 and 30 for various deli items, the success of the registration process often depends on the individual examiner that is assigned the application.

Once published for opposition we would anticipate that the owner of the "Cobblestone Mill" mark for bakery products, and possibly the owner of the "Cobblestone Bread" mark for fresh baguette breads might oppose registration on the grounds of likelihood of confusion – note that the owner of the "Cobblestone Mill" mark is Flowers Bakeries Brands, Inc. We note that the trademark office has sent some sort of letter to the applicant for "Cobblestone Bread"; the examiner may have found there to be a conflict with "Cobblestone Mill" due to both marks dealing with bread. IMA's ability to successfully defeat any such opposition will be based on showing that the products (deli items) are not related to the bread or bakery products of either or both of these preexisting marks. The owner of the "Boston Cobblestone" mark might oppose registration as well; IMA's ability to successfully defeat this opposition will be based upon showing that the marks are dissimilar.

Exhibit 8

prepared to respond that the goods are in different channels, and involve different buyers that are not only not identical, but are not even related.

The examiner will look for the similarity or dissimilarity of the marks as to appearance, sound, connotation and commercial impression and will compare the goods to see if they are related. While we believe that IMA has a good chance at getting the mark "Cobblestone Corner" published for opposition under classes 29 and 30 for various deli items, the success of the registration process often depends on the individual examiner that is assigned the application.

Assuming publication for opposition IMA should anticipate that the owner of the "Cobblestone Mill" mark for bakery products, and possibly the owner of the "Cobblestone Bread" mark for fresh baguette breads might oppose registration on the grounds of likelihood of confusion - note that the owner of the "Cobblestone Mill" mark is Flowers Bakeries Brands, Inc. We note that the trademark office has sent some sort of letter to the applicant for "Cobblestone Bread"; the examiner may have found there to be a conflict with "Cobblestone Mill" due to both marks dealing with bread. IMA's ability to successfully defeat any such opposition will be based on showing that the products (deli items) are not related to the bread or bakery products of either or both of these preexisting marks. The owner of the "Boston Cobblestone" mark might oppose registration as well. IMA's ability to successfully defeat this opposition will be based upon showing that the marks are dissimilar.

try to
We are curious as to why the trademark office did not require a disclaimer of the use of "cobblestone" without the use of the other words in connection with these registrations.

Should an opposition be filed IMA would show the dissimilarity of the marks and the lack of confusion. Surely IMA would not be trading upon the goodwill of any of these marks.

The San Pablo mark for Reinhart is the mark we are operating under. If we get the St. Paul grill to give us a release, are we OK. It is important that we be able to get on with expanding the application of the Brands "San Pablo", Villa Frizzoni", and "Cobbelstone Market"...the later being the most critical.

Ed, is the St. Paul Grill a customer?

Bob:

We asked the attorney who searched the Brickfire Bakery to look at the marks you thought about for kiosks. Attached is his initial letter and follow-up to my inquiry. There is a "The St Paul Grill" mark that is registered. This attorney seems to think that since San Pablo is translated to be St Paul, that the trademark office would reject the mark.

I have not heard back on the other two names yet, but there is a "Cobblestones Restaurant & Bar" which he may find to cause a concern as well.

In response to the Official Action of January 10, 2005, a response being due by July 10, 2005, please amend the above-identified application as follows:

IN THE APPLICATION

In the identification of the Applicant, please insert the following names of the general partners -- having Distribution Marketing Services GP, L.L.C., a limited liability company of Delaware, as its general partner.--.

In the identification of goods in International Class 29, please delete the previous recitations and insert therefor -- Deli meats; cooked deli items, namely, sandwiches, soups, and vegetables; cheese; salads except macaroni, rice, and pasta salad; pickles; bagged potato chips, frozen soups; frozen entrees, namely, entrees consisting primarily of meat, fish, poultry or vegetables, in International Class 29.--.

Please insert the following disclaimer -- No claim is made to the exclusive right to use "MARKET" apart from the mark as shown.--.

INFORMALITIES

In reply to the Official Action, Applicant has amended the present application so as to comply with the Examiner's requirements. In particular, Applicant has amended the identification of goods in order to comply with the Examiner's suggestions. Applicant has also amended the application to include the name and citizenship of the general partner. Applicant has further included a disclaimer of the descriptive term "MARKET".

REMARKS

In the Official Action, the Examiner has initially refused registration on the Principal Register because of the "likelihood of confusion" of the mark with three prior registered marks. As to each mark, Applicant's attorney disagrees, and believes that the Examiner has failed to make a prima facie showing of likelihood of confusion.

I. No likelihood of confusion between Applicant's mark and U.S. Reg. No. 1,037,938

A. The marks are dissimilar in appearance

In making the argument for the rejection as to confusing similarity, the Examiner points to only a portion of the mark, specifically the term "COBBLESTONE". However, Applicant's mark is "COBBLESTONE MARKET" and the cited registrant's mark is "BOSTON COBBLESTONE", as such the mark must be reviewed for likelihood of confusion as a whole and should not be broken into component parts to reach a conclusion of confusing similarity. In re Hearst Corp., 25 U.S.P.Q.2d 1238, 1239 (Fed. Cir. 1992) ("marks tend to be perceived in their entireties, and all components thereof must be given appropriate weight." . . . "When GIRL is given fair weight, along with VARGA, confusion with VARGAS becomes less likely.). It is well established that there is nothing improper, under certain circumstances, to give more or less weight to a particular portion of a mark. See In re National Data Corp., 753 F.2d 1056, 224 USPQ 749 (Fed.Cir. 1985). The cited registrant's mark is the word mark "BOSTON COBBLESTONE". Applicant's mark is for the word mark "COBBLESTONE MARKET". Accordingly, the marks are obviously not similar in appearance, connotation, or sound. As such, the Applicant feels that the above arguments show that the marks are not similar enough for a finding of a likelihood of confusion.

B. Applicant's mark and the reference mark differ in commercial impression

It is conceded that Applicant's mark and the reference mark share the common term "COBBLESTONE". It is submitted, however, that Applicant's mark and the reference mark differ in commercial impression because an addition, subtraction or substitution of letters or words, may or may not be sufficient to make the marks dissimilar in appearance, depending on the overall commercial impression given to the relevant public. T.M.E.P. § 1207.01(b)(ii). It is also well established that there is nothing improper, under certain circumstances, to give more or less weight to a particular portion of a mark. See In re National Data Corp., 753 F.2d 1056, 224 USPQ 749 (Fed.Cir. 1985).

The cited registrant's mark is a word mark consisting of the term "BOSTON COBBLESTONE" for use in association with cheese. The commercial impression of the cited registrant's mark is the mental image of a northeastern area handmade cheese. The term "COBBLESTONE" is often used to suggest a handcrafted good similar to old cobblestone roads, and the use of the term "BOSTON" is often used as a positive suggestive term for association with the northeastern United States area products. More importantly, since Boston is not particularly known for producing cheese (notice the registrant is a Wisconsin company), consumers would retain and recognize the "BOSTON" portion of the mark over the laudatory "COBBLESTONE" portion of the mark.

The Applicant's mark is for the term "COBBLESTONE MARKET" in association with deli meats, cooked deli items, cheese, salads pickles, potato chips, soups, entrees, and mustard, in International Classes 29 and 30. The commercial impression is different because the mark "COBBLESTONE MARKET" is a suggestive term used to associate the goods of the Applicant with the impression of handcrafted goods being offered for sale in a market or delicatessen.

The marks "COBBLESTONE MARKET" and "BOSTON COBBLESTONE" are not similar in either appearance, spelling, pronunciation, or commercial impression to the degree to cause confusion between the two. The marks also have distinct meanings that are separate and independent of each other. As can be seen from the above arguments, there is no likelihood of confusion.

C. Third party usage evidence shows that "COBBLESTONE" is a weak mark

The cited registration is for the common term "BOSTON" in conjunction with another common term "COBBLESTONE". The connection between the Applicant's mark and the cited registration which forms the basis of the Examiner's refusal is the same term "COBBLESTONE". The term "COBBLESTONE" in relation to trademarks has a varied and widespread use. The TTAB has given weight to credible and probative evidence of widespread, significant, and unrestrained use by third parties of marks containing elements in common to demonstrate that confusion is not, in fact, likely. Miles Labs. Inc. v. Naturally Vitamin Supplements Inc., 1 U.S.P.Q.2d 1445, 1462 (TTAB 1986). Applicant contends that the mark "COBBLESTONE" is a weak mark which is used to describe numerous goods and services outside of the scope of the Registrant's goods. The accompanying sample of a TESS list of registrations and applications (80 Records) is probative to demonstrate that the term "COBBLESTONE" has been adopted by a number of other users as a good or service designation. Attached hereto as Attachment "A". In the case of weak marks, even slight differences between the marks may be deemed sufficient to avoid a finding that confusion is likely. See In re Dayco Products -Eagle motive Inc., 9 U.S.P.Q.2d 1910, 1912 (TTAB 1988) ("As such, we find the term to be a relatively weak mark and we agree with applicant that the scope of protection afforded such a mark is considerably narrower than that afforded a more arbitrary designation."); see also In re Copytele Inc., 31 U.S.P.Q.2d 1540, 1542 (TTAB 1994). The Applicant's mark includes the additional term "MARKET" to make the mark "COBBLESTONE MARKET". Due to the dilute nature of the mark "COBBLESTONE" the scope of protection afforded such a mark is considerably narrower than that afforded a more arbitrary designation. As such, the additions and deletions in the Applicant's mark are as such that the purchasing consumer would not be confused as to the source of the respective goods. The term "COBBLESTONE" is a very dilute mark similar to such a degree that the public is inundated with this term in day to day life on an assortment of goods and services, and therefore it should be granted very narrow protection on this basis. As can be seen from the above arguments, there is no likelihood of confusion.

II. No likelihood of confusion between Applicant's mark and U.S. Reg. No. 1,920,539

A. The marks are dissimilar in appearance

In making the argument for the rejection as to confusing similarity, the Examiner points to only a portion of the mark, specifically the term "COBBLESTONE". However, Applicant's mark is "COBBLESTONE MARKET" and the cited registrant's mark is "COBBLESTONE KITCHENS", as such the mark must be reviewed for likelihood of confusion as a whole and should not be broken into component parts to reach a conclusion of confusing similarity. In re Hearst Corp., 25 U.S.P.Q.2d 1238, 1239 (Fed. Cir. 1992) ("marks tend to be perceived in their entireties, and all components thereof must be given appropriate weight." . . . "When GIRL is given fair weight, along with VARGA, confusion with VARGAS becomes less likely."). It is well established that there is nothing improper, under certain circumstances, to give more or less weight to a particular portion of a mark. See In re National Data Corp., 753 F.2d 1056, 224 USPQ 749 (Fed.Cir. 1985). The cited registrant's mark is the word mark "COBBLESTONE KITCHENS". Applicant's mark is for the word mark "COBBLESTONE MARKET". Accordingly, the marks are obviously not similar in appearance, connotation, or sound. As such, the Applicant feels that the above arguments show that the marks are not similar enough for a finding of a likelihood of confusion.

B. Applicant's mark and the reference mark differ in commercial impression

It is conceded that Applicant's mark and the reference mark share the common term "COBBLESTONE ". It is submitted, however, that Applicant's mark and the reference mark differ in commercial impression because an addition, subtraction or substitution of letters or words, may or may not be sufficient to make the marks dissimilar in appearance, depending on the overall commercial impression given to the relevant public. T.M.E.P. § 1207.01(b)(ii). It is also well established that there is nothing improper, under certain circumstances, to give more or less weight to a particular portion of a mark. See In re National Data Corp., 753 F.2d 1056, 224 USPQ 749 (Fed.Cir. 1985).

The cited registrant's mark is a word mark consisting of the term "COBBLESTONE

KITCHENS" used in association with hot chocolate, coffee, and dairy based beverages. The commercial impression of the cited registrant's mark is the idea of a handmade kitchen or restaurant. The term "COBBLESTONE" is often used to suggest a handcrafted good similar to old cobblestone roads, and the use of the term "KITCHENS" is often used to describe restaurants.

The Applicant's mark is for the term "COBBLESTONE MARKET" in association with deli meats, cooked deli items, cheese, salads pickles, potato chips, soups, entrees, and mustard, in International Classes 29 and 30. The commercial impression is different because the mark "COBBLESTONE MARKET" is a suggestive term used to associate the goods of the Applicant with the impression of handcrafted goods being offered for sale in a market or delicatessen.

The marks "COBBLESTONE MARKET" and "COBBLESTONE KITCHENS" are not similar in either appearance, spelling, pronunciation, or commercial impression to the degree to cause confusion between the two. The marks also have distinct meanings that are separate and independent of each other. As can be seen from the above arguments, there is no likelihood of confusion.

C. Different channels of trade

Relatedness, or channels of trade, means, in this context, that the goods or services of applicant and the registrant are related in some manner or some circumstance surrounding the marketing such that they are likely to be encountered by the relevant public under circumstances that will give rise to the mistaken belief that they originate from or in some way are associated with or sponsored by the same producer. The nature of the respective party's goods or services, and thus their relatedness, is determined on the basis of the goods or services set forth in the application or registration. In re Dixie Restaurants Inc., 41 U.S.P.Q.2d 1531, 1534 (Fed. Cir. 1997)("Indeed, the second DuPont factor expressly mandates consideration of the similarity or dissimilarity of the services as described in an application or registration."). Applicant's channels of trade are limited to deli meats, cooked deli items, cheese, salads pickles, potato chips, soups, entrees, and mustard. The cited registrant's channels of trade are restricted to hot chocolate, coffee, and dairy based beverages. These goods are not related in function and would never be purchased at the same time, nor would they be encountered by the relevant public under circumstances that will give rise to the mistaken belief that they originate from or in some way are associated with or sponsored by the same producer.

The Examiner is correct in stating that the goods need not be identical or directly competitive to find confusion, as they need only be related in some matter that they could be encountered by the same purchasers under circumstances that could give rise to the mistaken belief that the goods come from a common source. The Applicant respectfully asserts that the Examiner is incorrect in stating "The goods of the applicant and of the registrants' are similar if not identical in that all of the marks in question are for health consumable related items...The goods of the applicant and of the registrant are likely to travel in the same channels of trade, namely, health food stores, grocery stores, et al.". See Examiner's Official Action at Page 2. The Applicant respectfully disagrees with this reasoning. By using this same rationale, it could be said that a purchaser at a large store could come into contact with goods as different as a bottle of aspirin and a package of ground beef. Is a consumer going to be confused between a company that makes aspirin and a company that packages ground beef as to believe they come from the same source? The answer is no. This same rationale would support a finding of a likelihood of confusion between the cited registrant's goods and such varied goods as bread, beer and salad dressing,...etc. Just because the Applicant's goods and the cited registrant's goods may be orally consumed by humans does not mean these goods travel in the same channels of trade. Nor does the fact that a modern supermarket with goods as various as makeup and dog food support that the goods travel in the same channels of trade. It is well settled that the fundamental inquiry mandated by §2(d) goes to the cumulative effect of differences in the essential characteristics of the goods and differences in the marks." See Federated Foods, Inc. v. Fort Howard Paper Co., 544 F.2d 1098, 192 USPQ 24, 29 (CCPA 1976). A wide variety of products, not only from different manufacturers within an industry, but also from diverse industries, have been brought together in the modern supermarket for the convenience of the consumer. The mere existence of such an environment should not foreclose further inquiry into the likelihood of confusion arising from the use of similar marks on any goods so displayed. See Id. As such, as can be seen from the above arguments, there is no likelihood of confusion.

D. Third party usage evidence shows that "COBBLESTONE" is a weak mark

The cited registration is for the common word "COBBLESTONE" in conjunction with another common term "KITCHENS". The connection between the Applicant's mark and the cited registration which forms the basis of the Examiners refusal is the same term "COBBLESTONE". The term "COBBLESTONE" in relation to trademarks has a varied and widespread use. The TTAB has given weight to credible and probative evidence of widespread, significant, and unrestrained use by third parties of marks containing elements in common to demonstrate that confusion is not, in fact, likely. Miles Labs. Inc. v. Naturally Vitamin Supplements Inc., 1 U.S.P.Q.2d 1445, 1462 (TTAB 1986). Applicant contends that the mark

"COBBLESTONE" is a weak mark which is used to describe numerous goods and services outside of the scope of the Registrant's goods. The accompanying sample of a TESS list of registrations and applications (80 Records) is probative to demonstrate that the term "COBBLESTONE" has been adopted by a number of other users as a good or service designation. Attached hereto as Attachment "A". In the case of weak marks, even slight differences between the marks may be deemed sufficient to avoid a finding that confusion is likely. See In re Dayco Products -Eaglemotive Inc., 9 U.S.P.Q.2d 1910, 1912 (TTAB 1988) ("As such, we find the term to be a relatively weak mark and we agree with applicant that the scope of protection afforded such a mark is considerably narrower than that afforded a more arbitrary designation."); see also In re Copytele Inc., 31 U.S.P.Q.2d 1540, 1542 (TTAB 1994). The Applicant's mark includes the additional term "MARKET" to make the mark "COBBLESTONE MARKET". Due to the dilute nature of the mark "COBBLESTONE", the scope of protection afforded such a mark is considerably narrower than that afforded a more arbitrary designation. As such, the additions and deletions in the Applicant's mark are as such that the purchasing consumer would not be confused as to the source of the respective goods. The term "COBBLESTONE" is a very dilute mark similar to such a degree that the public is inundated with this term in day to day life on an assortment of goods and services, and therefore it should be granted very narrow protection on this basis. As can be seen from the above arguments, there is no likelihood of confusion.

III. No likelihood of confusion between Applicant's mark and U.S. Reg. No. 2,741,252

A. The marks are dissimilar in appearance

In making the argument for the rejection as to confusing similarity, the Examiner points to only a portion of the mark, specifically the term "COBBLESTONE". However, Applicant's mark is "COBBLESTONE MARKET" and the cited registrant's mark is "COBBLESTONE RESTAURANT & BAR", as such the mark must be reviewed for likelihood of confusion as a whole and should not be broken into component parts to reach a conclusion of confusing similarity. In re Hearst Corp., 25 U.S.P.Q.2d 1238, 1239 (Fed. Cir. 1992) ("marks tend to be perceived in their entireties, and all components thereof must be given appropriate weight." . . . "When GIRL is given fair weight, along with VARGA, confusion with VARGAS becomes less likely.). It is well established that there is nothing improper, under certain circumstances, to give more or less weight to a particular portion of a mark. See In re National Data Corp., 753 F.2d 1056, 224 USPQ 749 (Fed.Cir. 1985). The cited registrant's mark is the word mark "COBBLESTONE RESTAURANT & BAR". Applicant's mark is for the word mark "COBBLESTONE MARKET". Accordingly, the marks are obviously not similar in appearance, connotation, or sound. As such, the Applicant feels that the above arguments show that the marks are not similar enough for a finding of a likelihood of confusion.

B. Applicant's mark and the reference mark differ in commercial impression

It is conceded that Applicant's mark and the reference marks share the common term "COBBLESTONE ". It is submitted, however, that Applicant's mark and the reference mark differ in commercial impression because an addition, subtraction or substitution of letters or words, may or may not be sufficient to make the marks dissimilar in appearance, depending on the overall commercial impression given to the relevant public. T.M.E.P. § 1207.01(b)(ii). It is also well established that there is nothing improper, under certain circumstances, to give more or less weight to a particular portion of a mark. See In re National Data Corp., 753 F.2d 1056, 224

USPQ 749 (Fed.Cir. 1985).

The cited registrant's mark is a word mark consisting of the term "COBBLESTONE RESTAURANT & BAR" used in association with restaurant services. The commercial impression of the cited registrant's mark is the idea of an old eatery and bar. The term "COBBLESTONE" is often used to suggest a handcrafted good similar to old cobblestone roads, and the use of the term "RESTAURANT & BAR" is obviously used to describe restaurant and bar services.

The Applicant's mark is for the term "COBBLESTONE MARKET" in association with deli meats, cooked deli items, cheese, salads pickles, potato chips, soups, entrees, and mustard, in International Classes 29 and 30. The commercial impression is different because the mark "COBBLESTONE MARKET" is a suggestive term used to associate the goods of the Applicant with the impression of handcrafted goods being offered for sale in a market or delicatessen.

The marks "COBBLESTONE MARKET" and "COBBLESTONE RESTAURANT & BAR" are not similar in either appearance, spelling, pronunciation, or commercial impression to the degree to cause confusion between the two. The marks also have distinct meanings that are separate and independent of each other. As can be seen from the above arguments, there is no likelihood of confusion.

C. Different channels of trade

Relatedness, or channels of trade, means, in this context, that the goods or services of applicant and the registrant are related in some manner or some circumstance surrounding the marketing such that they are likely to be encountered by the relevant public under circumstances that will give rise to the mistaken belief that they originate from or in some way are associated with or sponsored by the same producer. The nature of the respective party's goods or services, and thus their relatedness, is determined on the basis of the goods or services set forth in the application or registration. In re Dixie Restaurants Inc., 41 U.S.P.Q.2d 1531, 1534 (Fed. Cir. 1997)("Indeed, the second DuPont factor expressly mandates consideration of the similarity or dissimilarity of the services as described in an application or registration."). Applicant's channels of trade are limited to deli meats, cooked deli items, cheese, salads pickles, potato chips, soups, entrees, and mustard. The cited registrant's channels of trade are restricted to restaurant services. There is no per se rule which mandates a finding that confusion is likely whenever foods and restaurant services are sold under similar marks. See, e.g.: Jacobs v. International Multifoods Corp., 668 F.2d 1234, 212 USPQ 641 (CCPA 1982) [no likelihood of confusion between BOSTON TEA PARTY for tea and BOSTON SEA PARTY for restaurant services; "a party must show something more than that similar or even identical marks are used for food products and for restaurant services"]; and In re Central Soya Company, Inc., 220 USPQ 914 (TTAB 1984) [no likelihood of confusion between POSADA (stylized) for Mexican style prepared frozen enchiladas and LA POSADA for lodging and restaurant services]. The Examiner has not shown the requisite "something more" other than the alleged similar marks used for food products and restaurant services. These goods and services are not related in function and would never be purchased at the same time, nor would they be encountered by the relevant public under circumstances that will give rise to the mistaken belief that they originate from or in some way are associated with or sponsored by the same producer. It is well settled that the fundamental inquiry mandated by §2(d) goes to the cumulative effect of differences in the essential characteristics of the goods and differences in the marks." See Federated Foods,

Inc. v. Fort Howard Paper Co., 544 F.2d 1098, 192 USPQ 24, 29 (CCPA 1976). As such, as can be seen from the above arguments, there is no likelihood of confusion.

D. Third party usage evidence shows that "COBBLESTONE" is a weak mark

The cited registration is for the common word "COBBLESTONE" in conjunction with another common term "RESTAURANT & BAR". The connection between the Applicant's mark and the cited registration which forms the basis of the Examiners refusal is the same term "COBBLESTONE". The term "COBBLESTONE" in relation to trademarks has a varied and widespread use. The TTAB has given weight to credible and probative evidence of widespread, significant, and unrestrained use by third parties of marks containing elements in common to demonstrate that confusion is not, in fact, likely. Miles Labs. Inc. v. Naturally Vitamin Supplements Inc., 1 U.S.P.Q.2d 1445, 1462 (TTAB 1986). Applicant contends that the mark "COBBLESTONE" is a weak mark which is used to describe numerous goods and services outside of the scope of the Registrant's goods. The accompanying sample of a TESS list of registrations and applications (80 Records) is probative to demonstrate that the term "COBBLESTONE" has been adopted by a number of other users as a good or service designation. Attached hereto as Attachment "A". In the case of weak marks, even slight differences between the marks may be deemed sufficient to avoid a finding that confusion is likely. See In re Dayco Products -Eagle motive Inc., 9 U.S.P.Q.2d 1910, 1912 (TTAB 1988) ("As such, we find the term to be a relatively weak mark and we agree with applicant that the scope of protection afforded such a mark is considerably narrower than that afforded a more arbitrary designation."); see also In re Copytele Inc., 31 U.S.P.Q.2d 1540, 1542 (TTAB 1994). The Applicant's mark includes the additional term "MARKET" to make the mark "COBBLESTONE

MARKET". Due to the dilute nature of the mark "COBBLESTONE" the scope of protection afforded such a mark is considerably narrower than that afforded a more arbitrary designation. As such, the additions and deletions in the Applicant's mark are as such that the purchasing consumer would not be confused as to the source of the respective goods. The term "COBBLESTONE" is a very dilute mark similar to such a degree that the public is inundated with this term in day to day life on an assortment of goods and services, and therefore it should be granted very narrow protection on this basis. As can be seen from the above arguments, there is no likelihood of confusion.

IV. Conclusion

Based on the foregoing analysis, Applicant requests that the Examiner reconsider the original rejection of this application. As such, Applicant believes there will be no buyer confusion as to the source of the goods and services and respectfully requests that the present mark be passed to publication at an early date.

Bob:

Although the convenience store/car wash/auto service company just recently filed its trademark applications (see attached), the applications state that the Cobblestone mark has been used since 1997. The company that filed the applications appears to have been around since 1996 - the members of that company appear to be Sagebrush Enterprises, LLC out of Scottsdale and Sobey Land Company Inc. out of California. Based on the 1997 date of use, IMA is not in a position to fight these applications.

Note that the attorney that filed the applications is Anne Kleindienst who also acts as Shamrock's counsel.

Bartt...please take a look at <http://www.shamrockfoods.com/cobblestone/> and give Rob and me your opinion on how to go forward on this potential infringement.

Bob,

Please go to the URL below and you should be able to view the pictures of the local Cobblestone Gas Station/Car Wash in Phoenix and you can advise Bartt to view them also. Let me know what is decided after he views them. Thanks!

The following URL contains the Cobblestone images from the S: Drive:

<http://www.shamrockfoods.com/cobblestone/>

It's using the default listing provided by the webserver for the image links. If needed, I can improve the presentation and create thumbnails, etc.

Also, please note that this is not a dynamic process so new images put into the Cobblestone Images directory on the S: Drive will not show up on the webserver until an admin manually copies the new images over.

Thanks,

~Matt

Rob,

Send a "link" to the file that is currently on your "shared drive" to email user TechSupport and request that the file be made available to "everyone" in the world on the Internet. You'll get a url link back which you would email to others.

Various ways.....least amount of work:

The webserver, and the content storage behind it are controlled by the server admins...

The file would need to get to the admins via some method....

They could then put it on the webserver and send out a link that anybody could use...

We need to make files, pictures, etc. available on the Internet instead of sending in emails.

How can they be posted somewhere that our user just sends a link?

Chuck,

As you may know, we have just launched a deli brand named Cobblestone Market, and there is a local gas station/car wash that has the name Cobblestone also in the PHX area. We have (IMA) apparently registered the name for use before they have, and there is some question as to whether or not it would be a conflict or not anyway...

However, Michelle Daley has posted the recently taken pictures of the car wash on our shared drive for us to view...

My question is how to get these pictures to another outside of our company, such as the President of IMA—Bob Planck, who needs to send them to his outside attorney...

Is there a way I can do that, without having Michelle send me the graphic heavy/large files to my address and me resending them on??

Please read bellow and call me ASAP. We need to undertake the action as recommended by Marta.

From my knowledge of SYSCO, they will not likely "lay down".

I propose that our first goal be that we protect our on going right to use of Hidden Bay BRAND. Is there any scenario under which we could risk our position on that BRAND?

Our second goal is to seek cancellation of Sysco's registration of HIDDEN COVE with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. See Marta's comments below.

Our third goal, if successful in #1 and #2, is to seek damages from Sysco.

Along with your considerations on this matter, please let me know of your estimate of likely legal costs.

2). SmartSource -

Additionally, are we having any progress relative to the opposition to our SmartSource BRAND?

3). Trefoglio BRAND -

Do we have the Trefoglio agreements for MAINES, Nicholas? Shamrock will need a copy of all agreements sent to the attention of Rob Ahrens Dorf.

4). Bylaws approval and Amendment Approval -

I believe that you sent a complete set of pages for signature and related paperwork to Mark Drazkowski a week or two ago. Have you received the organizational documents from RFS?

Also, is there now a complete set of votes on the three amendments on file in your office?

Once the approvals for our bylaws and bylaw changes are done, we need to send each Board member (and I need one) a copy of the complete document.

5). Highland Roast BRAND -

We will be licensing the Highland Roast BRAND from MAINES for coffee. Please send a copy of one of the RFS BRAND agreements to the attention of Phil Morgan at MAINES.

6). Input on Budget -

I am beginning to build a budget for 2005 (our fiscal year is a calendar year). I'd be interested in discussing possible sceneries and associated costs as well as discussing ways in which we can become more efficient.

7) Master File IMA Board Minutes -

Know that you have maintained a Master file on IMA Board minutes. Please have your assistant send a full set to Doris Bosse as well. We wish to maintain a duplicate set here.

8). Master File - IMA Agreements -

Please confirm that you are maintaining a master file of all contracts for IMA and also have your staff send a duplicate of each to Doris Bosse so that we can assure that copies are available here and there.

Are there other matters hanging out there that we need to deal with?

I will be easier to reach tomorrow than today as we have a group here for a meeting.

Bob.....Marta is one of Gerry Connolly's associates. Based upon what she has written below, IMA should be the pursuer of this issue.

> Dear Gerry:

> Reinhart FoodService, Inc., as the owner of the HIDDEN BAY mark, has the exclusive right under the IMA agreement to bring an infringement action.

However, if RFS fails or refuses to act within 90 days after IMA notifies RFS of the infringement, IMA may pursue the infringement. Typically I am hesitant to allow a licensee to pursue an infringement claim, because the owner of the mark usually has more of a stake in the matter. However the RFS/IMA license is somewhat unusual, so if RFS wants IMA to handle it, it can certainly grant that right to IMA for this particular matter.

> With respect to the infringement itself, as I mentioned before, I think that RFS/IMA should challenge Sysco's HIDDEN COVE mark on infringement grounds. I suggest that RFS/IMA seek cancellation of Sysco's registration of HIDDEN COVE with the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. If that proceeding is successful, RFS/IMA would then sue for infringement in federal court. (While the Patent and Trademark Office's findings of confusing similarity are not binding on federal courts, they are very persuasive.)

> Infringement is evaluated under the following factors: (1) The similarity of the marks (evaluated under a sight, sound and meaning analysis); (2) the similarity of the goods and services; (3) the nature and extent of any actual confusion; (4) the extent to which the respective goods and services are marketed through the same channels of trade; (5) the degree of attention usually given by customers to trade symbols in the purchase of the respective goods and services; (6) the strength of the senior user's mark; (7) the length of time that both parties have used their marks; and (8) the intent of the junior user in adopting and using its mark. Depending upon the facts, all or some of these factors will be relevant.

> Reinhart's HIDDEN BAY mark was registered in 2002 for seafood, with a federal priority date of November 14, 2000. Sysco's HIDDEN COVE mark was registered on May 11, 2004 for "fresh, frozen and canned seafood", with a federal priority date of September 19, 2002. Based on these dates, Reinhart clearly has priority over Sysco's mark. Also in Reinhart's favor, the marks have the same meaning (cove is defined as a "small inlet or bay"), the goods are identical, and the products are marketed in the same channels of trade.

> In Sysco's favor, there are other HIDDEN-marks in use for food products, including two with marine references -- namely, HIDDEN HARBOR SALADS for a variety of salads and, less on point, HIDDEN LAKE FARMS for meats.

> On balance, I think that RFS/IMA has a good case against Sysco. If we have any evidence of actual confusion or if, in the course of discovery, we find that Sysco intended to come close to RFS's mark, then our case will be strengthened considerably.

COBBLESTONE MILL INTRODUCES NEW 12-GRAIN SUB ROLL

10/24/2006

THOMASVILLE, GA; October 24, 2006. Cobblestone Mill, a growing brand of premium specialty breads and rolls from Flowers Foods Bakeries Group, has introduced 12-Grain Sub Rolls to its lineup. Made with whole grains, these rolls have zero grams of trans fat, are low in fat, and contain no cholesterol. Each roll also provides 10% of the daily value of calcium and is a good source of fiber.

The new rolls, sold in a six-pack, have a soft texture and a great flavor that comes from a blend of 12 grains, including whole wheat, corn meal, flaxseed, oats, and brown rice. Cobblestone Mill 12-Grain Sub Rolls are available in grocery stores throughout the Sunbelt and mid-Atlantic states. Suggested retail price varies by market, but the rolls are priced competitively with similar products in the Cobblestone Mill line.

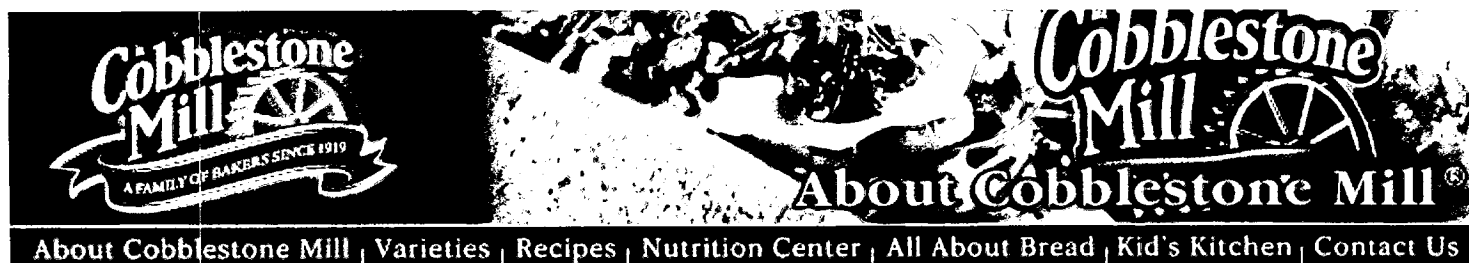

"Our Cobblestone Mill brand has grown over the past 23 years and for good reason," says Brent Bradshaw, brand manager for Flowers' Bakeries Group. "Cobblestone Mill specialty breads and rolls offer consumers heartier flavors and textures and are baked with premium ingredients. Our new 12-Grain Sub Rolls deliver the benefits of whole grain goodness with great taste"
